The tagline encapsulates the essence of these principles, serving as a concise and memorable expression of the corporation's mission, vision, and commitments.

BRAND POSITIONING

Brand positioning is the strategic process of defining how a company wants to be perceived in the minds of its target audience. It's crucial for a company to communicate effectively with different audience segments because each segment may have unique needs, preferences, and perceptions.

By understanding and segmenting its audience, a company can tailor its branding messages to resonate with each group. This involves crafting messaging, imagery, and experiences that speak directly to the concerns, aspirations, and values of each segment.

Whether it's emphasizing reliability and trustworthiness for one segment or highlighting innovation and modernity for another, effective brand positioning ensures that the company's branding efforts are relevant and compelling to each audience segment, ultimately fostering stronger connections and driving brand loyalty.

WHERE FOCUS GOES, ENERGY FLOWS

Brand colors play a pivotal role in shaping a company's identity and perception in the eyes of consumers. They are more than just aesthetics; they convey emotions, values, and messages, becoming a powerful tool in establishing brand recognition and loyalty. The strategic selection and application of colors can significantly influence consumer behavior and decision-making processes.

In health care branding, the choice of colors holds even greater significance due to the sensitive nature of the industry. Among the myriad of hues available, blue stands out as a staple in healthcare branding for several compelling reasons. Blue is often associated with trust, reliability, and professionalism, making it an ideal choice for health care institutions aiming to instill confidence and assurance in their patients. Its calming effect can also help alleviate anxiety and create a sense of serenity in medical environments, contributing to a more positive patient experience.

The decision to incorporate blues into your brand's color palette aligns perfectly with our emphasis on energy and engagement. While traditionally associated with tranquility, blue can also evoke feelings of vitality and dynamism when paired with vibrant accents and complementary hues. By infusing our brand with this versatile color, we not only convey a sense of stability and credibility but also harness its potential to energize and excite our audience.

“ Energy and persistence conquer all things. ”

► Benjamin Franklin

ENERGY

Championing
Health Equality

Our branding, aptly named "Energy," encapsulates the essence of our brand's ethos and aspirations. By choosing a vibrant and energy-focused color set, we signal to our audience that our brand is dynamic, forward-thinking, and driven by a passion to inspire action and involvement. Energy becomes more than just a concept—it becomes a tangible force that propels our brand forward, igniting interest and enthusiasm among our stakeholders.

As energy flows through our brand, so too does the power to captivate and connect with our audience on a deeper level. Our color palette becomes a conduit through which this energy is channeled, creating a visually stimulating experience that resonates with individuals and invites them to be part of our journey. With every hue carefully chosen to evoke a sense of vitality and excitement, our brand becomes synonymous with motion, momentum, and meaningful engagement.

COLOR

Color is how we tell stories and turn heads. We want to make sure we're recognizable for all the amazing things we do, and using CalVEBA Energy is the perfect way to ensure that.

Primary Brand Color

The color blue is highly associated with responsibility and is therefore regarded as representing reliability. For good reason, the insurance industry has widely embraced this color to represent their brand.

California Sky

OUR PRIMARY COLOR

We are all about California. The sunny clear days, the palm trees, and the ocean views. Its no surprise that we use California Sky in our brand!

Blue is a perennial choice across corporate branding. Not only is it the color most people cite as their favorite, it's also associated with stability and success. On an instinctual level, blue is calming. A business that offers serenity must be an extremely competent one.

Image is Everything!

Photography is one of the most important elements in an advertising campaign. The imagery is the first and the last thing people remember in an ad. In today's age of branding and identity, advertising photography does more than simply sell a product; it also sells the personality of the brand.

Cutout Images

Using cut out images is a great way to showcase an item or idea.

Use proper brand colors and feel free to overlap edges as needed.
